

16-YEAR-OLD BRIDE FREES HUSBAND OF CHARGE OF FRAUD

Man Who Accused Him Runs Away Before Her Investigation and Attack.

GOING BACK TO PARIS.

Young Treasurer Was Too Busy Courting to Take Cash of Bankrupt Company.

The determination of a sixteen-year-old bride to free her 21-year-old husband from the charge of being dishonest has compelled the man she accuses of defaming his reputation to become a fugitive from justice. To-day United States Commissioner Alexander declared forfeited the $1,500 bail given by Wadley Tanos, who is supposed to be on the way to Syria.

Tanos was president of the Egyptian Importing Company, at No. 101 Washington street. About six weeks ago the company was adjudged bankrupt, with liabilities of more than $25,000 and practically no assets. When the examination was held before Commissioner Alexander, Tanos said the treasurer, Leon Labe, had gone with all the funds and also had eloped with Eva Permutter, daughter of Louis Permutter, a lumber merchant at No. 222 Madison street.

Investigation showed that the youngsters had married and were in Paris. But when the bride heard of the charge that her husband was an embezzler, and that a warrant had been issued for his arrest on the strength of Tanos's testimony, she came back to New York to vindicate him. Labe stayed in Paris because of the warrant here.

Mrs. Labe's parents refused to entertain her and Labe's father, Martin Labe, president of the Labe Importing Company at No. 39 Broadway, also was cool toward her.

Less than a week after Mrs. Labe returned, she informed Commissioner Alexander that Tanos was preparing to leave the city. A warrant was issued, Tanos was arrested and compelled to give bonds.

FATHER AND SON RECONCILED BY GIRL BRIDE.

Meanwhile Labe had gone from Paris to Montreal and at his wife's solicitation returned to New York and submitted to arrest. The girl also brought about a reconciliation between father and son and the couple are residing with the parents at No. 120 West One Hundred and Twelfth street.

The examination into the affairs of the Egyptian Importing Company was resumed yesterday. Young Labe, a perfectly frank statement, showed that while he was treasurer, he had been too busy paying court to his girl-sweetheart to bother about the company, and Tanos had handled all the cash. When United States Marshal Henckel went for Tanos he found that he had been gone several days and had removed all of his effects. The Commissioner will exonerate Labe from the odium placed upon him by Tanos, and the happiest girl in town is his little wife.

"Now we can return to Paris and really settle down to a life of business," she said triumphantly to-day. "We will open a branch importing office there and show that we are full of business, now that our courting days are over."

18 MEN ACCUSED AS ILLEGAL VOTERS ON THE ISLAND

Tammany Lawyer Declares
Case Was Trumped Up for Political Effect.

Deputy Assistant District Attorney Medalle applied in West Side Police Court to-day for warrants on eighteen men who are alleged to have registered illegally on Blackwell's Island. At the request of Alfred J. Tally, who appeared for the Democratic organization in behalf of the accused eighteen, Magistrate Murphy postponed action on the application until to-morrow when he will hear final arguments.

Mr. Medalle says he has made a personal investigation upon which he bases his charge that the eighteen registrations in question were illegal. He had in court as witnesses Dr. Bacon, superintendent of the City Hospital; Dr. Connelly, superintendent of the Metropolitan Hospital; Robert Roberts, superintendent of the City Home; and Percy Williams, superintendent of the stable on the island.

According to Mr. Tally, the case has been trumped up for political effect. There is a question of law involved. The statutes provide that men who are maintained wholly or in part by the city as recipients of charity are not entitled to the exercise of their franchise.

Mr. Tally says that the eighteen men in dispute actually worked for the city and were paid for their work thirty days or more prior to the registration day. Mr. Medalle had records in court which, he said, would prove that the eighteen challenged men had received only a few payments of money for detached periods of employment and therefore violated the law when they registered.

Blackwell's Island forms the Nineteenth Election District of the Sixteenth Assembly District of which Edward P. Boyle is the Tammany leader.

Barrymore's Dog Killed.

The household of John Barrymore, the actor, at No. 36 Gramercy Park, was plunged into gloom to-day by the sudden and tragic end of Joey, a toy spaniel which has accompanied Mr. Barrymore on his travels for several years. Death came to Joey in the form of a yellow taxicab whirling around the corner of Irving place into Gramercy Square.

Mrs. Barrymore was with the dog at the time, but could neither call him quickly enough nor warn the chauffeur. When she saw Joey was dead she burst into tears and ran into her home. Mr. Barrymore came out a moment later, took the remains in his arms and carried them home. He told a policeman on the way that Mrs. Barrymore was sure the chauffeur had run the dog down intentionally, but that she had been too much excited to note his license number.

TOBACCO SMOKE OVERCOMES SIX FIGHTING BLAZE

Firemen Collapse in Basement of Building at Forty-second Street and Fifth Avenue.

THE FLAMES SMOULDER.

Great Crowd Collects at Busy
Crossing and Delays Traffic for an Hour.

Six firemen were overcome by smoke to-day in fighting a stubborn blaze in the basement of the Seymour Building at the northeast corner of Forty-second street and Fifth avenue, which was once the home of Levi P. Morton. The ground floor is occupied by Schulte's cigar store, McKee's, the florist, and a branch of the Postal Telegraph company, all of which suffered considerable damage.

The blaze was discovered about 5 o'clock by Edward Coine, manager of the cigar store. There had been a small fire yesterday afternoon in the basement under the cigar store, started by a cigarette, which was thrown through the grating in the sidewalk. Employees had extinguished this blaze, they thought, but when Coine arrived to-day he found the store filling with smoke. He sent in an alarm.

The firemen, under Battalion Chief Turpin, bent all their effort toward containing the fire to the cellar. Lines of hose were dragged into the smoke-filled basement and as fast as one fireman was overcome he was carried to the open air and a new man sent to take his place. The overcome firemen were doused with hot milk and stimulants and were soon on their feet, ready to renew their fight against the blaze.

Battalion Chief Turpin said the fire was one of the most stubborn he has known in years. It started in the sub-cellar in a lot of rubbish and empty packing boxes, then worked through to the cellar above and into a wooden flooring on which was stored the extra stock of the cigar store. The tobacco caught fire and the overpowering smoke penetrated every building for a block around, even filling the Grand Central Station.

The only persons in the upper stories of the building when the blaze was discovered were twenty charwomen, who were brought down by the elevator man, James S. Lee. The scene of the blaze is one of the most important business crossings in the uptown section and a great crowd soon collected. The reserves were called to handle the masses that packed the sidewalks. Traffic in Forty-second street and Fifth avenue was blocked for more than an hour.

The damage to the cigar store's stock is estimated at $5,000; the Postal Telegraph Company places its damage at $2,500 and the florist estimates the damage to his stock at $1,000. The damage to the building will amount to about $2,000.

Twenty Years for Killing.

Louis Du Boise, colored, of No. 39 West Thirty-seventh street, who shot and killed William Clarke, also colored, in a saloon brawl March 27 was to-day sentenced to Sing Sing for "not less than twenty years or more than life" by Judge Malone in General Sessions. A jury found Du Boise guilty of murder in the second degree.

MASKED MAN SHOT AFTER WOUNDING KEEPER OF HOTEL

Hit by Bullet in Attack, He Is Found Killed, Supposedly by His Pal in Crime.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The finding of the body of an unidentified man near Patrick Hackett's hotel at Monroe avenue, a mile from Rochester, early to-day disclosed the fact that Hackett in his duel with two masked men last night had shot one of his assailants. Hackett himself was fatally wounded.

The two men entered Hackett's place and with no other warning than "Oh, you fat!" opened fire on him. Hackett was shot three times. He managed to draw his own revolver and fire five times. The men fled after shooting at Mrs. Hackett, who was in the kitchen.

When the body of the dead bandit was examined it was found that he had been shot through the body by Hackett and it was concluded that the shot through the head, which must have caused instant death, was fired by the companion of the dead man either at the request of the then wounded man, or that he was deliberately killed by the survivor, who feared that the capture of his fellow robber would lead to identification.
